IMPORTANT PLACES IN THE MUNICIPALITY

Podčetrtek is a young municipality in eastern Slovenia, which lies near the river Sotla on the Slovene-Croatian border. Vineyards extend over and around the small hills and stretch to the hamlets of the countryside. Besides Podčetrtek, Olimje, Polje ob Sotli, Virštanj, Pristava Mestinju and Imeno are also important towns in the area. Podčetrtek's most inviting features include its preserved natural beauty, rich cultural heritage, variegated tourist offers, and, of course, the kindness of its people.

PODČETRTEK

The settlement, with a spread out market center, lies in the narrow valley by the border of the Sotla River. Podčetrtek is the center of the municipality (60.2 km<sup>2</sup> with 3 375 inhabitants) and also of the province of Srednja Sotelska.

On top of the land that rises above this area is the Podčetrtek Castle, which was first mentioned in the archives in the 12th century. The castle you see today was the product of the renovations set in motion by the Counts of Attems in the 18th century, who remained in possession of the castle until the end of the Second World War. The laws of the market place reclaimed the area in the 15th century, and from then on every Thursday saw the usage of the space for both trade and court transactions. Thus the town was named Podčetrtek (literally "Under Thursday") due to this constant schedule.

Near the castle there extends a forest reserve of Linden and Black Beech trees. Below the castle hill near a small brook stands the parish church of Saint Lovrenc and also on a small hill above the street leading from Početrtek to Olimlje stands the church of the Virgin Mary on Pesek.

Today's function of the center of the settlement reflects needs of the community with a large number of trade transactions, a primary school and kindergarten with new athletic stadium, a health center, a post office, a bank and fire station. Multifunction sport hall is a central place for entertainment where local people and tourists can get together on performances and sport events.

It is in the immediate vicinity of Podčetrtek that one can find Terme Olimia

OLIMJE

Olimje can be found in the fertile and peaceful valley at the foot of the Rudnica Mountain. The center of this area boasts the renovated monastery complex including a castle and a church, which is adorned with a gold and black baroque altar. In the castle tower, visitors will find a celebrated pharmacy, enriched with frescos, which is one of the oldest preserved monastic pharmacies in Europe. A botanical garden extends out in front of the monastery including over 160 different healing herbs. Today the monastery is inhabited by the Minorite Brothers.

The rich tourist offers of the region include many welcoming farmhouses with authentic Slovene wine and food, as well as various types of homemade chocolate and beer, golf courses, a fairy tale-like countryside and breeders of deer and other small creatures.

Tidiness and beauty of these places has convinced even the strict European commission that awarded village Olimje with golden medal on Entente Florale 2009 contest.

IMPORTANT PLACES IN THE MUNICIPALITY

PRISTAVA PRI MESTINJU

This small spread out settlement encircles the viniferous sloping hills of the area, some of which have marked routes for cyclists and also marked footpaths. The area also contains a subsidiary primary school, a kindergarten and a post office. The community center offers inhabitants the opportunity for socializing and recreation.

The pilgrimage church of Saint Ema stands on a hill of the same name. The existing church was built in 1717 and is the successor to an older medieval church from the 15th century. The church was renovated in 1835 and in 1927 and is considered to be among the most important examples of sacral baroque architecture in this area.

The Emina pilgrim path runs through this area linking others to it, which creates an immediate connection to the life lead by Saint Ema.

Scattered around the small surrounding hills and valleys are the four subsidiary churches of Saint Vida, Saint Areh, Saint Urban and the church of Saint Katarina.

IMENO

Imeno is a small spread out roadside border town, which lies on the wide plains on the right side of the Sotla hill. Besides agriculture and trade the pulse of the settlement is maintained by its contemporary wine cellars. The area also boasts a century-old tradition of the fire brigade. The name of the town has an interesting history, as it is connected to the Pilštanj Countess Ema. Normally, the town would thus be called Emينو, but a vowel swap changed this to Imeno instead.

The area also has a nearby hippodrome, an airfield for recreational planes and a new sports park. On the small hill on the Imeno mountains, east of Imeno stands the church of Saint Križa. This remodeled church dates back to the second quarter of the 15th century. Today visitors can still see the preserved late Gothic elements in both the artwork and the building itself. The painted ship and the main altar date back to 1919. On the top of the Imeno Mountains, near the hunting lodge, is a magnificent place to take in the view.

VIRŠTANJ

Virštanj is made up of small viniferous hills, which was first mentioned in the 13th century. The area was named after the four stones, which acted as boundary stones to the lords of this viniferous land. In German, the settlement is called “veir Stein” (four stones). The center of the town boasts the Banovina knight and wine cellar, which continues to cultivate a 120 year old grape vine. Thus the town plays a central role in the viticulture of the area, confirming its value and that of the celebrated Virštanj wine. The area is tightly connected to the tradition of wine-making, thus producing the aforementioned Virštanj wine and also boasting the Šmarsako-Virštanj tourist wine road VTC – 10.

The church of Saint Philip and Saint Jacob stands on a small hill in Sela. First mentioned in 1545, the basic elements of the building are Gothic in origin. The preserved frescos from this era can still be found in fragments in the interior of the church. Newer frescos, dated back to 1862, were the work of Tomaž Fanton. In 1826, the church's belfry and presbytery were completed and later, the vestry, at the end of the 19th century. The church is typically Gothic, but was remodeled in the baroque style to be a rural subsidiary.

POLJE OB SOTLI

Polje ob Sotli is a spread out village by the river Buča. By the edge of the village towards the roadside village of Sedlarj, extend the agricultural lowlands with the small viniferous hills rising over the village towards the river Buča. Here an agricultural region is revealed.

In the center of the settlement stands the church of Saint Nicholas, which was first mentioned in 1545 as a subsidiary of the church of Saint Peter. Throughout the centuries, the church survived several reconstructions, which changed its primary look. The chapel of Saint Rosalyn has been dated back to 1691 and the chapel of Saint Barbara is believed to come from the period between 1750 – 1760. The pulpit is baroque in style and the work of the carver Anton Mersij completed in 1795. In 1881, the church received the Neo Gothic fittings and organ that visitors continue to enjoy today. The interior was decorated in 1900 by the Neo Gothic painter A. Pavlič, who also manufactured all three of the present altars.

The Ploje ob Sotli community center and fire brigade is the central meeting place of the villagers.

DISTANCE FROM TERME OLIMIA: 4,5 km

Since the 11th century, Castle Olimia has stood in the valley under the Rudnica mountain surrounded by green grass, orchards, gardens and fields. In 1663 the castle was newly inhabited by the Pavlin monks who built a beautiful baroque church nearby adorning it with a black and gold altar. The church was built in honor of the assention of the Virgin Mary into heaven and was originally meant for pilgrims.

Thanks to the efforts of the Pavlin monks, one of the castle towers soon played host to the monastery's pharmacy and in 1780, it was captured on a canvas by Anton Lerchinger.

Later, in 1782, Emperor Joseph II dissolved the cloister and instead formed a parish. The building and the surrounding land was then bought by Count Attems who, due to high taxes, ordered that two wings of the monastery be destroyed. In 1990, the Minorite monks moved to the monastery and continue to enjoy revealing to others the artistic and sacral wealth of the church and also of the old pharmacy.

The monks have revived the traditional pharmacy of the monastery. In the adjacent garden, they grow many healing plants from which teas, creams and tinctures are made to maintain health. In the botanical garden visitors are invited to become acquainted with the healing effects of the many plants which grow in our gardens, pastures, swamps and forests.

Chocolate production in Olimia is greatly connected to Alfonz Videtič who was a confectioner at the end of the 19th century and the beginning of the 20th. He was employed in Vienna until 1915 when he was forced to bring his work to a halt due to shortages of cocoa trees and other imported ingredients. His descendants revived his methods through the first 90 years of the last century and in Olimia the production and sale of chocolate continues.

The methods of production have remained the same over the years with the workers making the chocolate by hand. Thus, each and every piece is unique with a distinctive taste and a texture that melts in your mouth. The palette of products which come from the chocolate shop in Olimia is very wide and includes pralines, griottes, truffles, ganaches, chocolate bars, caramelised fruit, crocantes, volte figures and many other chocolate treats.

WALKING AND CYCLING

A good part of the surroundings of Podčetrtek can be covered by foot or by bike using any of the 20 foot and bike paths available. The bike paths are perfect for both mountain and city cycling.

Those on foot may prefer the interesting Europe walking paths E7, which are part of the Atlantic – Black Sea route that crosses through Slovenia in a west – east direction. The Štajerska (Styria) – zagorska mountain path links the land on both sides border of the river Sotla.

The Slomšek pilgrimage path, Bizeljsko-Ponikva, and the Emina pilgrimage path also lead through this area. The latter continues on towards Koroška (Carinthia), Štajerska (Styria), Dolenjska (Lower Carniola) and Gorenjska (Upper Carniola) connecting to a path, of the same name, in Austria.

Surrounding the village of Olimje the Rudnica – Virštanj educational path continues, teaching visitors about the various geological developments and geological constructions of the Kozjansko region. The foot path includes many beautiful views allowing visitors to see most of the Kozjansko park and is suitable for visitors of average physical fitness. The southern part of the municipality of Podčetrtek plays host to the continuation of Path XIV and the Polje mountain road.

With the restoration of the SOTLA-valley tourist zone, the spring has become a border making crossing it easier for both cyclists and hikers. The zone has three foot paths and three cycling paths, which are suitable for beginners and for the more experienced visitors.

DAY TRIPS

Podčetrtek is an excellent departure point for many day trip destinations including crossing the border into Croatia.

In the Kozjansko park, visitors are invited on a trip to the Podsreda Castle, which is considered to be among the most important examples of Romantic architecture in Slovenia. Today the castle lives a full and rich life. This is especially true in the summer when the sound of various musicians fills its walls.

The interior of Kozjansko park rises up towards Pilštanj, a market town, nearly forgotten it has been revived over the last few years. Already in the 15th century it boasted 10 market fairs a year. Today one can still see the column or pillory of shame where offenders used to be chained.

The holy mountains above Bistrica ob Sotli were settled already in Roman times and are now considered one of the oldest pilgrim centers in Slovenia. They now boast the pilgrim's Church of the Virgin Mary as well as four chapels.

Peculiar attractions of the Bizeljsko-sremiška tourist wine roads include the sandy caves made up of silicate sand, which are the so-called "repnice" (a place to store turnips). Approximately 200 years ago the farmers used to dig these caves in order to store field produce and fruit. Today there exist some 150 of these "repnice" with 30 of them still in use. Farmers now also use this method for the storage of wine.

The outdoor museum in Rogatec presents to visitors the life of farmers and tradesmen from the end of the 19th to the beginning of the 20th century. The center of the museum is made of wood with a straw roof and coated in a clay plaster which was whitened with lime.

Visitors are invited to visit Rogaška Slatina, which has an age old tradition of maintaining health and a celebrated glassworks.

Kalvarija, which leads up to the pilgrimage church of Saint Rok above Šmarje pri Jelšah, which is considered the most extensive passion complex in Slovenia with 14 chapels, denoting the stations of the cross, arranged on a zigzagging path.

Worth a look are also the pilgrimage churches on the Sladka gora in Tinsko mountains.

On the other side of the border, in Croatia, one can visit Terme Tuhelj, the Tabor Castle in Desenič and the Kumrovec Old Village Museum, which is not only attractive to lovers of ethnological collections, but also for adherent admirers of Marshal Tito.
